

Congratulations to Floyd Mansberger (above, center), recipient of the Illinois Archaeological Survey's 2018 Charles Bareis Distinguished Service Award!

Floyd has made outstanding contributions to Illinois archaeology and in civic engagement with broad, public audiences to enhance our citizens' appreciation of Illinois history and archaeology. He has engaged in over 30 years of excellence in uncovering the history and archaeology of Illinois communities and in communicating and discussing his findings with broad, public audiences. Floyd's work has included collaborations with academic researchers, cultural resource management projects, archaeological investigations, archival analysis, and architectural surveys and evaluations.

Image: Floyd Mansberger (center), Clare Tolmie, IAS president-elect (right), and Chris Fennell, IAS president (left).